

Objective

Seeking an internship opportunity to apply my academic knowledge into real world business problems by working in a fast-paced, innovative, and change-oriented environment

Profile

- Self-starter with a positive attitude, intellectual curiosity and genuine passion for analytics and solving real world problems.
- Highly motivated, detail oriented, and team player, with exceptional verbal and written communication skills.
- Equipped with sharp analytical mind, excellent organizational and time management skills
- Collaborative natural leader with critical thinking and decision-making ability

Experience

Data Science Intern / Vizuro LLC., Burlington MA

July 2020 – September 2020

- Responsible for writing code that was designed to help teach Artificial Intelligence to detect any defects on a thin slice of semiconductor using machine learning algorithms.
- Responsibilities included implementation of data manipulation, data analysis and data visualization using Python and C.

Sales Associate / Target, Framingham MA

July 2021 - September 2021

- Recommend cell phones and other related accessories according to the client needs and ensure customer satisfaction.
- Identify client needs by answering product and service questions.
- Provide technical support.

Education

B.S Computer Science

University of Massachusetts - Lowell, MA

September 2019 – May 2023 (Expected)

Course Work:

Probability and Statistics

Calculus

Discrete Mathematics

Assembly

Organization of Programming

Languages

Data Structures

Logic Design

Linear Algebra

Computer Architecture

Computer Security

Technical Skills

Python, NumPy, Pandas, OpenCV

C, C++, OCaml